INTRODUCTION

This test pretends to assess the English language level, on the basis of First Certificate Level, in the following aspects:

- * Vocabulary
- * Grammar
- * Comprehension

Some questions may refer to more than one of the above aspects.

This kind of language level assessment does not assess the speaking fluency or listening.

This is not an official test, so it does not certify the English level of the applicants.

The result comes from the Global Raw Score that the applicant achieves in the test. In addition, the report presents the raw score of each aspect assessed (vocabulary, grammar and comprehension).

- Global Raw Score:

It is the addition of all the right answers along the test. Wrong and blank answers are also provided.

- Vocabulary Raw Score:

It is the addition of the vocabulary questions separately. Wrong and blank answers are also provided.

- Grammar Raw Score:

It is the addition of the grammar questions separately. Wrong and blank answers are also provided.

- Comprehension Raw Score:

It is the addition of the comprehension questions separately. Wrong and blank answers are also provided.
